Carramar Logo History

1995 First logo was a golf ball positioned on top of a tee, designed by Alan Toogood.

Later on the Club adopted the 'yellow crested' cockatoo as it's logo as Carramar course frequented by these birds and also it was thought the name Carramar Cockies was a good club nickname. The initial design was conceived by Bob Sheppard and then the final design was done by Simon Morrison (eldest son of member Richard Morrison).

In 2011 Club Members indicated a change to new logo (designed by Bob Sheppard).

Carramar Club Website

Raised and maintained by Liam Anderson until January 2009 when it was taken over by David Clayton. In June 2010 the club website was re-designed and operated by James Turner.

Carramar Caddie History

First issue was published in February 2004. It was a joint effort by Ben Grothues and Mal Lane. Due to other commitments Mal could not continue with his input and Ben became the sole Editor, Producer and Printer in 2006. The Carramar Caddie is the club newspaper published monthly. In June 2010, the Carramar Caddie ceased production on the retirement of the editor and long-time supporter, Ben Grothues.
